

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
NEW COURSE PROPOSAL FORM

COURSE NUMBER/NAME INTE 534 Issues and Trends in Instructional Technology

- A. Complete the University of Alabama Course Inventory form and attach it as the cover page to this request.
- B. Attach a syllabus for the course which includes:
1. Course number, title and number of credit hours
 2. Catalog course description, including all prerequisites.
 3. Course goals and specific educational objectives for each major instructional unit.
 4. Required text(s) and/or readings.
 5. Description of required clinical experiences and assignments, if appropriate.
 6. Description of assignments.
 7. Number and nature of examinations, including policy for make-up tests.
 8. Grading procedures for tests and assignments.
 9. Procedures for determining final grades.
 10. Attendance policy.
 11. Policy on academic misconduct.
 12. Policy on reasonable accommodation.
 13. Course bibliography, if appropriate.
- C. Provide the following information for review by the Department Head.
1. Describe the rationale for the course.

The Instructional Technology program is beginning an ACHE approved Master's degree in Instructional Technology beginning Fall, 2018. This course is one of the courses approved for the Master's degree.

2. Name the proposer of the course and any other faculty who are qualified to teach the course. Describe any specific qualifications and capabilities an individual must have to teach this course.

The proposer is Vivian H. Wright. Others who may be teaching the course include Angela Benson, Andre Denham, Margaret Rice and possibly adjuncts.

3. Indicate the programs(s) of study, majors (s), and/or minors, or other general curriculum in which this course will be included.

Instructional Technology MA. Any other programs can include the course in their programs if they wish.

4. Indicate how frequently and during which semesters the class will be offered.

Every fall semester beginning fall, 2019.

5. If a fee will be charged for the course, indicate the amount of the fee and describe how the fee will be used.

No fee.

6. Describe the system of evaluation that will be used to determine whether the course should continue to be offered in the future. Discuss the types of data that will be collected and the procedures that will be used to determine the effectiveness of the course.

The course will continue to be offered as it is part of the ACHE approved Master's degree in Instructional Technology. Data will be collected on student performance in the class and SLOs for the Instructional Technology Assessment plan.

D. Provide the following information for review by the Department Head and the Dean:

1. Describe the resources that will be needed to support the course (e.g., allocation of faculty, space, equipment, library materials, computers, travel, consultant honoraria, and/or other needs). Also, indicate how these needs will be met (e.g., course deletion and reallocation of faculty load).

While there is no need to hire new tenure track faculty for the proposed program, there will be a need to hire adjuncts to teach the undergraduate courses currently being taught by one of our faculty members. The adjuncts will be required to have an earned doctorate in a technology related field and have experience and training in teaching online courses.

Online access to The University of Alabama's library collections is available to all enrolled students, through the web portal located on the library's website. Access is controlled through the use of MyBama credentials.

E. Provide the following information for review by the Curriculum Committee:

1. New Course Proposal Form with required signatures
2. List other courses, if any, which duplicate content to be covered in the proposed course and describe discussion with the faculty in the units offering those courses regarding the need for/appropriateness of the course duplication.

Not a duplicate as there is no other equivalent course.

3. Describe the impact this course will have on other courses and programs of study (e.g., enrollments, course substitutions, course deletions, and total program hours).

No impact.

4. If the course will be cross-listed with another department, attach a written statement from the appropriate department/area head(s) that the materials submitted are required by all departments/areas involved in teaching the course.

No cross listing.

5. Describe how this course will meet specific curricular requirements in the College (e.g., infusion of multiculturalism across the curriculum, inclusion of special needs across the curriculum).

This course will further address the program's purpose to help students understand technology's role across society as technological advancements necessitate a systematic examination of instructional strategies and content, assessments, and the technologies used to inform them.

Mission of the College of Education

Our mission at the Capstone College of Education is to be a leader in Alabama and across the nation in teaching, scholarship, advocacy, and service by developing professionals with pedagogic and disciplinary expertise who advance the intellectual and social conditions of all learners in a globalized society.

Vision of the College of Education

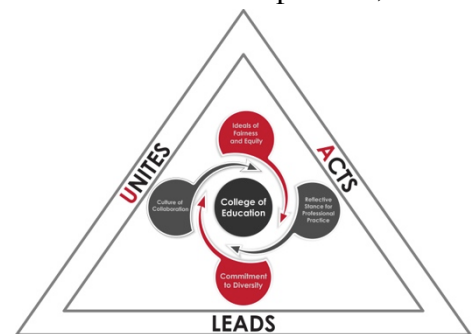

The vision of the College of Education (COE) at The University of Alabama is to develop effective, ethical, and reflective professionals who advance the theme of the COE: Unite, Act, and Lead (UA Leads). This theme undergirds the four overarching ideals of the COE: Ideals of Fairness and Equity, Reflective Stance for Professional Practice, a Commitment to Diversity, and a Culture of Collaboration. The fulfillment of these ideals calls for a commitment to academic excellence and advocacy through active engagement with shifting social and cultural contexts and advanced technological developments that shape the construction, interpretation, and dissemination of knowledge.

The COE will continue to develop professionals who meet the needs of all learners that may arise from differences in race, social class, language, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, health, ability, and religious and political affiliations. By engaging in theoretically informed and intellectually advanced advocacy and effective practice our graduates will

UNITE with the larger community to collaboratively nurture cultural competence, empathy, and a vision of equity and justice for all learners;

ACT to develop the full potential of all learners to be excellent professionals in their fields; and

LEAD through continuous research-based critical inquiry of policy and reflective practice to enable transformative change in our diverse local and global communities.

Through excellence in teaching, scholarship, advocacy, and service the COE will facilitate visibility and voice of education leaders beyond the classroom in support of democracy and social justice for all learners in our global society.

Dispositions

We strive to create programs that emphasize Fairness and Equity, Reflective Stance for Professional Practice, a Commitment to Diversity, and a Culture of Collaboration.

Course Description

Study of current issues and trends affecting the use of technology in training, instruction, and implementation. Includes an examination of emerging technologies; legal, social, cultural, cyber ethics and security, and ethical issues affecting technology; technology funding; technology planning and professional development.

Required Texts

Spinello, R. (2017). Cyberethics: Morality and Law in Cyberspace (6th ed). Burlington, MA: Jones & Bartlett Learning.

Due to the emerging nature of this course, module assignments, specifically reflective blog contributions, focus on current, online readings. A sample of those readings includes:

Subscribe to free, online magazine TechLearning <http://www.techlearning.com/>; focuses on current trends and issues related to instructional technology for teaching and learning.

Subscribe to free Educause, <https://www.educause.edu/> for the Educause Review and the Educause Library; this site routinely highlights top instructional technology issues in K-12, higher education, learning communities, and business settings.

Brown, A. & Green, T. (Producers). (2017, September 5). Trends and issues in instructional design, educational technology, and learning sciences [Audio Podcast]. Retrieved from <http://trendsandissues.com/>

Course Objectives

Course objectives are designed to assist the instructional technology student in identifying and obtaining knowledge about current issues and trends in technology, in order to help them better create effective learning environments in teaching, learning, training, development, and design.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students in this course will:

- explore ethical, cultural, and social issues related to technology
- apply technologies to meet needs of diverse populations
- evaluate and synthesize methods of inquiry in emerging topics to enhance pedagogy, learning, and performance
- use reflection to advocate for change and to build support in using technologies to communicate and collaborate

- model and facilitate innovative digital-age work and learning experiences through the effective use of current and emerging tools to ensure success in a global and digital world
- promote and communicate the safe, legal and ethical principles of digital citizenship, equitable access, digital etiquette, and responsible online social interactions in a global culture including respect for copyright, intellectual property, the appropriate documentation of sources, and Internet user protection policies.

Other Course Materials

Additional course materials, resources, and readings are posted with each module.

Format of the Course

This is an online course with learning activities presented through modules. The modules may include multiple layers of readings, interactions, and assignments/products.
